

The UniMouse is an ergonomic optical mouse that has a nice feel to the hand. Enjoy ergonomic design and soft rubber side grips for control. Optical technology makes this item far more precise than the average mouse. Three buttons and a scroll wheel provide you with many customizable options for navigating your desktop. Contoured to nestle comfortably in the average user's palm. Tailor made to be conducive for the right or left hand with a bit more precision than some of the more popular ambidextrous mouse out there. You just rest your hand on it without the need to squeeze. All this makes the UniMouse a pretty nice alternative.
